DEFINITIONS

Alkira Fuel's Complaints Handling Policy and complaint handling process are modelled on the principles of fairness, accessibility, responsiveness, efficiency and alignment with our organisational culture.

Our Policy is designed to:

- Make it easy to provide feedback or to make a complaint by providing information about who to contact and providing feedback or complaint forms in print and electronic formats
- Resolve a complaint informally by talking to the individual and providing an explanation or apology
- Ensure regular reviews of the issues raised by complaints to or about Alkira Fuel.

We expect our employees at all levels to be committed to handle complaints in a fair, effective and efficient manner. The following table outlines the steps that are expected to be undertaken by our employees and the commitment expected:

Each of these steps are discussed in detail within this Policy.

FACILITATING COMPLAINTS

We will maintain a People focus when facilitating complaints

Alkira Fuel is committed to seeking and receiving feedback and complaints about our services, process, practices, procedures, products and complaint handling.

Any concerns raised through feedback or complaints will be dealt with promptly and within a reasonable time frame. People making complaints will be:

- Provided with information about our complaint handling process and how to access it
- Listened to, treated with respect by employees and actively involved in the complaint process where possible and appropriate
- Provided with reasons for our decision/s and any options for redress or review.

There will be no detriment to people making complaints

Alkira Fuel will take all reasonable steps to ensure that people making complaints are not adversely affected because a complaint has been made by them or on their behalf.

Anonymous complaints

Alkira Fuel will accept anonymous complaints if there is a compelling reason to do so and will carry out a confidential investigation of the issues raised where there is sufficient information provided.

Accessibility to information

We will ensure that information about how and where complaints may be made to or about us is well publicised on our website. We will ensure that our process to manage complaints is easily understood and accessible to everyone, particularly people who may require assistance.

If a person prefers or needs another person to assist or represent them in the making and/ or resolution of their complaint, we will communicate with them through their representative if this is their wish. Anyone may represent a person wishing to make a complaint with their consent (e.g. advocate, family member, legal or community representative, member of Parliament).

ACKNOWLEDGING AND RESPONDING TO COMPLAINTS

At Alkira Fuel, we will endeavour to acknowledge and respond to any complaint promptly, objectively, confidentially and in an unbiased manner.

Early resolution at first point of contact

Where possible, complaints will be resolved at first contact with us and, when appropriate, we may offer an explanation or apology to the person making the complaint.

Alkira Fuel's intention is to record and resolve complaints at first point of contact. This record keeping discipline will add to the data we regularly analyse to identify process issues and to track trends in the complaint handling activities of our employees.

Responsiveness to meet people's expectations

We will promptly acknowledge the receipt of complaints.

We will assess and prioritise complaints according to the urgency and/or seriousness of the issues raised. If a matter concerns an immediate risk to safety or security the response will be immediate and will be escalated appropriately.

We are committed to managing people's expectations, and will inform them as soon as possible, of the:

- Complaints process
- Expected time frames for our actions
- Progress of the complaint and reasons for any delay
- Likely involvement in the process
- Possible or likely outcome of their complaint.

Alkira Fuel will advise people as soon as possible when we are unable to deal with any part of their complaint and will provide advice about where such issues and/or complaints may be directed (if known and appropriate).

Alkira Fuel will also advise people as soon as possible when we are unable to meet our time frames for responding to their complaint and the reason for our delay.

Objectivity and fairness in dealing with complaints

To ensure objectivity and fairness we will:

- Address each complaint with integrity and in an equitable, objective and unbiased manner
- Ensure that the person handling a complaint is independent of any staff member whose conduct or service is being complained about
- Manage conflicts of interest, whether actual or perceived, responsibly. Independent internal reviews of how a complaint was managed will be conducted by a person other than the original decision maker.

Responding in a flexible approach

Our employees are empowered to resolve complaints promptly and with as little formality as possible. We will adopt flexible approaches to service delivery and problem solving to enhance accessibility for people making complaints and/or their representatives.

We will assess each complaint on its merits and involve people making complaints and/or their representative in the process as far as possible.

Confidentiality

Alkira Fuel will protect the identity of people making complaints where this is legal, practical and appropriate. Personal information that identifies individuals will only be disclosed or used by us as permitted under our Privacy Policy, the relevant privacy laws, secrecy provisions and any relevant confidentiality obligations.

Empowerment of employees

Alkira Fuel will empower all our employees who are required to manage complaints to implement our complaint management process as relevant to their role and responsibilities.

Our employees are encouraged to provide feedback on the effectiveness and efficiency of all aspects of our complaint management process.

Managing unreasonable conduct by people making complaints

Alkira Fuel is committed to being accessible and responsive to all people who approach us with feedback or complaints. When people behave unreasonably in their dealings with us, their conduct can significantly affect the progress and efficiency of our work. As a result, we will take proactive and decisive action to manage any conduct that negatively and unreasonably affects us and will support our employees to do the same in accordance with this Policy.

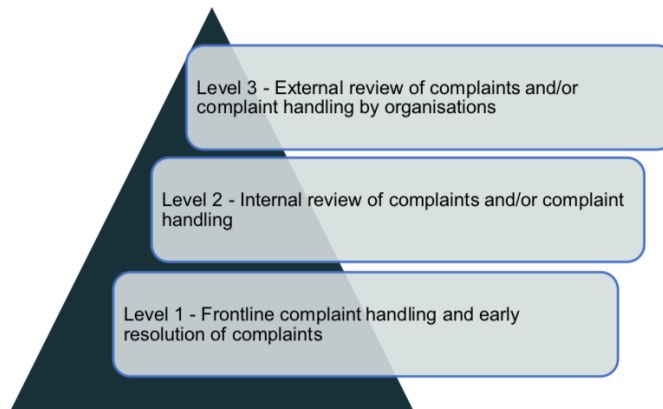

Our success in dealing with complaints depends upon:

Alternative avenues for dealing with complaints

We will inform people who make complaints to or about us about any internal or external review options that may be available to them (including any relevant Ombudsman or oversight regulatory bodies).

Our three levels of complaint handling

Level 1 - Frontline complaint handling and early resolution of complaints

Alkira Fuel aims to resolve complaints at the first, frontline level. Wherever possible employees will be adequately equipped to respond to complaints, including being given appropriate authority, training and supervision.

Level 2 - Internal review of complaints and/or complaint handling

Where resolution at the frontline level is not possible, we may decide to escalate the complaint to a more senior officer within Alkira Fuel. This second level of complaint handling will provide for the following internal mechanisms:

- Assessment and possible investigation of the complaint and decision/s already made
- Facilitated resolution (where an independent person who is not connected with the complaint reviews the matter and attempts to find an outcome that is acceptable to the relevant parties).

Level 3 - External review of complaints and/or complaint handling by organisations

Where a person making a complaint is dissatisfied with the outcome of our review of their complaint, they may seek an external review of our decision.

Employees should also consider any relevant legislation and/or regulations when responding to complaints and feedback.

Alkira Fuel's complaint management process is summarised in the following five distinct stages:

Step 1: We receive complaints

Complaints may be received by a supervisor, manager, executive manager, People & Culture, CEO or the Board. We will record the complaint and its supporting information promptly when it is received. Such record keeping will add to the pool of data we collect and analyse to identify process issues and to track the complaint handling activities of employees. We will also assign a unique identifier/number to the complaint file. The record of the complaint will document:

- Contact information of the person making a complaint and the date received
- Issues raised by the person making a complaint and their preferred outcome/s
- Any other relevant information
- Any additional support the person making a complaint requires.

Step 2: We acknowledge complaints

We will acknowledge the receipt of each complaint promptly, and preferably within 5 working days. When appropriate we may offer an explanation or apology at this time.

Consideration will be given to the most appropriate medium (e.g. email, letter) for communicating with the person making a complaint.

Step 3: We assess and investigate complaints

Initial assessment

After acknowledging the receipt of the complaint, we will confirm whether the issue/s raised in the complaint is/are within our control. We will also consider the outcome/s sought by the person making a complaint and, where there is more than one issue raised, determine whether each issue needs to be addressed separately. When determining how a complaint will be managed, we will consider:

- The seriousness, complexity and urgency of the complaint
- Whether the complaint raises concerns about people's health and safety
- How the person making the complaint is being affected
- The risks involved if resolution of the complaint is delayed
- Whether a resolution requires the involvement of an external party.

Investigating the complaint

Following an initial assessment of the complaint, we will consider how to manage it. We may:

- Give the person making a complaint information or an explanation
- Gather information about the issue, person or area concerning the complaint
- Investigate the claims made in the complaint.

We will keep the person making the complaint updated on our progress, particularly if there are any delays. We will also communicate the outcome of the complaint using the most appropriate medium.

The actions we decide to take will be tailored to each case and will consider any statutory requirements.

Step 4: We determine outcomes and provide reasons for decisions

After considering the complaint and any investigation into the issues raised, we will contact the person making the complaint and advise them on the:

- Outcome of the complaint and any action taken
- Reason/s for our decision
- Remedy or resolution/s that we have proposed or implemented
- Options for review that may be available to the complainant, such as an internal review, external review or an appeal.

Step 5: We close the complaint: document and analyse data

Document information

We will maintain records to document:

- How we managed the complaint
- The outcome/s of the complaint (including whether any aspect of it was substantiated)
- Recommendations made to address problems identified and decisions made on those recommendations
- Any outstanding actions to be followed up, including analysing any underlying root causes.

Analyse information

We will ensure that outcomes are properly implemented, monitored, analysed and reported to the complaint handling manager, senior management and the CEO.
